

AAA PROCESSING TAXES HELD UNCONSTITUTIONAL

LEE CO. ONE OF THIRTY ALREADY IN HORNER CAMP

Political Strategy to Make Governor's Renomination Sure

Springfield, Ill., July 16.—(AP)—With new strategy, Governor Horner has wasted no time in lining up his political forces for the 1936 renomination drive.

While others have talked about the possibility of organized opposition to the governor at the April primary, he has obtained endorsements from the Democratic committees in thirty downstate counties.

Dan Sullivan, who is administrative auditor and secretary of the state central committee, today said:

By August 1, I confidentially expect to have at least eighty county endorsements. Eventually we will have pledges of support from the party organization in every county.

That method of obtaining renomination support hasn't been used by recent administrations, who usually wait for the state fair in late August to start active campaigning.

Must Be Considered.

As a matter of practical politics it has served advance notice that Horner will enter the 1936 campaign with the backing of a sizeable block of support that must be considered when slates are made.

State House politicians in most cases privately say there is little prospect that anything will come of rumors that Mayor Edward J. Kelly of Chicago or other Democratic leaders might back another gubernatorial candidate in the race next spring.

They point out that the governor, with control of state patronage as one factor, cannot be prevented from entering the primary if he chooses and that the county committee endorsements will be of major consideration when the Democrats follow their custom of drafting slates of candidates.

Lee County Lined Up. Most of the counties from which Horner endorsements have been obtained are in the rural areas, but some include downstate cities where the vote is heavy. The counties already lined up by Sullivan are:

Adams, Alexander, Bureau, Clay, Coles, DeKalb, Dewitt, Fulton, Henry, Iroquois, Jackson, Jasper, Jefferson, Johnson, Kankakee, Knox, Lee, Livingston, Logan, Macoupin, Peoria, Perry, Pope, Putnam, Randolph, Richland, Saline, Schuyler, Shelby and Tazewell.

Sullivan obtained the first endorsements more than a month ago, continuing the work while the governor concentrated his attention on the hundreds of bills passed by the legislature.

Sullivan said he has contacted 76 downstate committees and that every one agreed to hold meetings to adopt resolutions endorsing the governor.

Boys School at State Fair August 17 to 23

The twenty-sixth annual Boys' State fair school will be conducted on the state fair grounds at Springfield on Aug. 17-23. The boys' camp is under military supervision, guaranteeing order and sanitation. Lee county is entitled to two delegates. The cooperation with this school however, since its inception in 1910 has enabled Lee county to double and even triple this quota.

Delegates to this school, which is essentially agricultural, must be at least 15 years of age and not older than 21 years. As appointments should be made within the next ten days, eligible boys who are interested should call on or write to County Superintendent of Schools L. W. Miller at an early date.

John Butler, 83, of Sublette is Called

(Telegraph Special Service) Sublette, July 16.—John Butler, 83, well known throughout this part of the county, passed away at his home here at about 2 o'clock Monday afternoon. Funeral services will be held Thursday morning at 9 at Our Lady of Perpetual Help church. Rev. Joseph Wietekamp officiating, and with burial in St. Mary's cemetery, Sublette. Obituary will be published later.

IERC STAFF CUT

Chicago.—The Illinois Emergency Relief Commission announced dismissal of 323 staff members as administrative costs were cut in accordance with a decline in relief rolls for the past three months.

Warner Honored

(Telegraph Special Service)

Columbus, Ohio, July 16.—Attorney Henry C. Warner of Dixon, Ill., was today elected trustee of the Grand Lodge Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks for a five year term. The new incumbent is one of the most active Elks in Illinois and has been prominent in the national Grand Lodge circles for the past few years.

DIXON WOMAN'S RESENTMENT IS ABLY EXHIBITED

DePue Man Readily Admits All Women are Not Blockheads

A Dixon woman who with her husband was returning home from an over Sunday visit with relatives at DePue, satisfied a male motorist of that city that all women who drive automobiles are not "blockheads," according to reports which have gained only limited circulation locally. It appears that the Dixon lady and her husband were about to leave the DePue city limits when a home town resident disregarded the practice of stopping before entering a through drive and crashed into the side of the Dixon car after the driver had swerved to one side of the road and almost into the ditch.

Both fenders, the hub caps and the running board were torn from the side of the Dixon car and in the resultant dispute as to who was to blame, the DePue motorist refused to pay any damages and ventured the remarks that all women drivers were "blockheads."

The words were no sooner cold from his lips, than he went sprawling in the street beside his means of transportation as the result of a well directed, flat handed and powerful right hand swing caught the arguing driver squarely in the face. After recovering from the shock, the offending driver modified his previous remark so as not to include all women drivers, agreed that he was totally at fault and asked to be permitted to pay the costs of all damages. This humble apology was quite acceptable to the Dixonites and after the necessary arrangements were made, the local couple proceeded home with their damaged car.

Horner Receives Large Picture of President

Springfield, Ill., July 16.—(AP)—Governor Horner today received a large autographed picture, 36x48 inches, of President Roosevelt which is to hang in the executive office at the State House.

Done in sepia, the picture will replace a smaller autographed portrait of the president which has hung in the governor's office.

Big Juicy Steak More Important to "Great" Dizzy Dean Than Gov. Horner or Crowd of Baseball Fans

Springfield, Ill., July 16.—(AP)—A steak is more important to Dizzy Dean than a governor or the opening ceremonies of a baseball game at which the "Great One" is scheduled to be guest of honor.

Dizzy came to town last night to umpire the game between Quincy and Springfield for the Catholic Diocesan championship. He was met by Mayor John W. Kapp, who said:

"Come on, Dizzy, the governor's waiting."

"Say, I gotta eat first," was his rejoinder. Then the Cardinal pitcher entered a hotel dining

ECLIPSE SEEN IN DIXON AND CO. PERFECTLY

Was Longest Visible in United States in Past Half Century

The moon, totally eclipsed by the earth, shone copper-colored from refracted rays last night and early today in a celestial spectacle that kept many Lee county citizens up past their usual bedtime.

The eclipse was the longest visible in this country in 50 years. There will not be another of such length for another half century.

The phenomenon came with direct alignment of sun, earth and moon, the moon sliding through the earth's umbral cone, which extends 860,000 miles into space, at a point approximately 226,000 miles away.

The moon touched the penumbra, in which part of the sun's light is cut off, at 9:15 P. M. Central Standard time, and reached the umbra, or totally dark shadow, at 10:12.

By 11:09 it was in total eclipse, emerging from the other side of the thick cone an hour and 40 minutes later, and clearing the penumbra at 2:35 A. M.

Moon Copper Colored

The refracted rays from the sun, which gave the eclipsed moon a phosphorescent copper color and made it still visible, were bent around and directed into the earth's umbra by vaporous substances about the earth's surface.

The Atlantic seaboard had favored seats for the show, since the middle of the eclipse was only slightly past its meridian. Thick white clouds, fleeting by in rapid formation, frequently obscured the view in New York and many other sections of the country.

In some regions rain and clouds made visibility impossible.

The west coast had clear skies, and so did Texas and most of the region west of the Rocky Mountains.

Harold Curran Made Agent Dixon Express

Harold Curran of this city, who for the past 16 years has been employed as cashier at the Railway Express Company office, has been promoted to the position of agent of the Dixon office. Harold was a Telegraph carrier for six years while attending school and his many friends extend congratulations on his deserved advancement.

Bert Woodruff, who has been one of the force of regular deliveries, has been promoted to the position of cashier. Winfield Pierce and Clinton Ringler will continue as deliverymen. The former agent, H. R. Ball has resigned his position.

For Lese Majeste

Berlin, July 16.—(AP)—Six Heidelberg students, allegedly guilty of lese majeste in its modern German form, are expiating their frivolous behavior in a concentration camp, the Nazi weekly "Landpost" reported today.

Instead of listening reverently to the broadcast of a speech by Adolf Hitler, the six scions of aristocratic families made unseemly noises, it was charged, and started a farcical discussion of how Der Fuehrer ate asparagus.

POSSEMEN SEEK HOLDUP-SLAYER OF TWO POLICE

Orting, Wash., Bank Robber May Have Been Sought Kidnap

Tacoma, Wash., July 16.—(AP)—Department of justice agents joined possemen today in the search for the slayer of two Puyallup policemen while some authorities expressed the belief the fugitive was William Dainard, alleged "brains" of the George Weyerhaeuser kidnapping.

With highways blocked by police, searchers plunged through underbrush in the Puyallup valley hoping to trap the killer who shot the officers while they were seeking a bank robbery.

The victims were Chief of Police Frank Chadwick and Patrolman Harry W. Storem.

Two Justice Department agents joined the search, a fact which increased speculation on whether the slayer might be Dainard, alias Mahan.

Capt. Ernie Yoris of the King County (Seattle) sheriff's office expressed belief the fugitive might be Dainard. Justice Department agents admitted "it was possible," although they indicated they did not take the reports seriously.

The officers were killed in a burst of gunfire on a road outside Puyallup while they were seeking the man who held up and robbed the Orting State bank of $500.

Farmer Saw Shooting

Shortly after the robbery was reported, Chadwick and Storem raced away to intercept the bandit. Near the farm of John Urdea the officers drew alongside the robber's car. Urdea said the man got out of his car, walked around to the police automobile and suddenly opened fire.

"There were no shots from the police car," the farmer said. Then the man jumped into his car and raced toward Buckley.

Both officers died within a few minutes and less than an hour later the killer's automobile was found near Summer.

Dainard, an ex-convict, is wanted on bank robbery charges in four western Washington cities.

GUARD AROUND HAUNTED FARM IS WITHDRAWN

But Moline Farmer is Planning No Relaxation of Care

Rock Island, Ill., July 16.—(AP)—Farm operations at the George Billingsley place southeast of Moline were going forward today after Rock Island county authorities yesterday withdrew the guard which has been watching for the mysterious stranger or "ghost" who has terrorized the family for several weeks.

Billingsley, however, still is on the alert for the prowler who apparently has been frightened away at least temporarily by recent publicity. He will not relax his vigilance until the mystery is solved, he says.

The "ghost" angle, Billingsley says, has long ago been exploded. No sheet or black hood enshrouds the stranger, according to Billingsley, who says he has seen the man dressed in a dark business suit in his latest appearances at the farm.

County officials have been informed that the same farm was the scene of similar activities several years ago, which were traced to a demented man. At that time cattle were released from pastures, wire fences were cut and there were other incidents which puzzled the neighbors.

Occupants of the farm at that time and neighbors set a trap for the prowler and caught him. Examination showed that his mind was unbalanced.

SEEK FOUR MEN FOR MURDER OF TWO TUSCOLANS

Some New Evidence Uncovered in Deaths of Two Brothers

Tuscola, Ill., July 16.—(AP)—Douglas county authorities investigating the brutal double murder of two brothers on a highway near here Saturday night said today they had obtained information indicating that four men had participated in the killings.

Sheriff Clark Edwards, tracing the suspect who lured Edward Burmeister, 35, garage attendant, and his brother, John, 56, to the scene of the murders, said he had learned the suspect stopped at a roadhouse on route 16, 35 miles southeast of here, shortly after the brothers were slain and robbed.

The sheriff said the roadhouse proprietor, a man named Sapp, had told him that a man answering the description of the suspect had visited the place accompanied by three other men. They requested soap, Sheriff Edwards said, and all washed their hands and arms at a well in the yard.

Description Tallies

Sapp told him, the sheriff said, that he obtained a good look at the man believed to be the same person who telephoned the garage where Edward Burmeister was employed from a Tuscola pool hall. The suspect wore a patch of adhesive tape on his upper lip, as did the man who telephoned Burmeister.

The roadhouse is located on route 16, between Charleston and Ashmore. The four appeared there, the sheriff said Sapp told him, approximately two hours after the Burmeister brothers drove out of Tuscola to aid the motorists they believed stranded.

Joint funeral services for the two victims will be held tomorrow afternoon. They will be buried in Tuscola cemetery.

HOUSE REFUSES TO ADJOURN BY VOTE OF 111-48

Author of Movement Sees Democratic Prestige Lost

Washington, July 16.—(AP)—The House today tabled, 111 to 48, a resolution to force adjournment of this session of Congress next Tuesday.

The resolution—not debatable—was offered by Representative Deen (D-Va.). Immediately one of the Democratic leaders, Representative O'Connor of New York, moved it be tabled. That undoubtedly kills it.

Speaker Byrns announced O'Connor's motion had carried on a voice vote, but a standing vote was demanded. On that, the count was 111 to 48.

The vote was almost strictly on party lines, six other Democrats voting with Deen and against the motion to table. Two Republicans joined the Democrats.

Just before Deen offered his resolution, Representative Woodruff (D-Va.) made a brief speech in which he said he agreed "100 per cent" with those who thought Congress should "speedily adjourn."

Deen has prepared a resolution calling for adjournment next Tuesday—which would be weeks sooner than the leaders contemplate.

"In my humble opinion," Deen said, "the Democratic party is losing ground, prestige and votes every day by continuing to rush through legislation improperly considered and some of which appears to be unconstitutional."

Donaldson is Lucky As Car Overtaken Office: is Promotion

A Dodge coupe belonging to Fred Donaldson of this city was practically demolished late Sunday night and the driver miraculously escaped being instantly killed when the car left the Pump Factory road just north of the Northwestern cutoff crossing and turned end over end into a ten foot ditch, landing against a telegraph pole.

The driver was thrown through the top of the wrecked machine and escaped with only minor bruises. Passers-by observed the car resting at a dizzy angle on the bank of the deep ditch and reported the incident to Sheriff Ward Miller last evening who sent deputies to the scene to investigate, and it was found that the badly wrecked machine was the property of the Dixon man.

U. S. Circuit Court at Boston Held Congress Had No Right to Delegate Taxing Powers

Says Balanced Production No Standard for Taxes

Boston, July 16.—(AP)—The Agricultural Adjustment Act, under which the administration seeks to control agricultural production, raise prices, and recompense farmers for crop reduction, today in large part was held unconstitutional by the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

The court not only ruled that the power under which nearly a billion dollars in processing taxes had been collected was unconstitutional, but also expressed the opinion that the "congress has attempted to invade a field over which it has no control."

Program In Danger

The authority of the administration for its entire program for controlling production of such diverse commodities as pork, cotton, tobacco and grain is thrown into question by the decision which will be appealed at once to the United States supreme court.

"It is clear, we think," the decision read in part, "that congress at the outset has attempted to invade a field over which it has no control since its obvious purpose, viz.: to control or regulate the production of agricultural products in the several states by the methods adopted in this act is beyond the upower of congress."

The court found that no such authority to impose taxes had been delegated to the Secretary of Agriculture by the constitution or by decisions of the Supreme Court.

The circuit court's decision was based upon a test case brought by receivers of the Hoosac Mills, which sought recovery of $81,694.48.

The decision was subscribed to by Judges Scott Wilson and George F. Morris. Judge George H. Bingham, senior justice, dissented.

Purpose of Act.

"It is clear," said the decision, that the main purpose of the act "is to control and regulate the production of the so-called basic agricultural commodities of the several states, through agreements with the producers and in consideration of what is termed rental or benefit payments, to reduce acreage or production for market sufficient to increase the current average price of such products to that elusive point where the returns to the farmer from the production of such commodities will purchase under present conditions the same amount of industrial products that the returns to the farmer from the same products would buy in the five year pre-war period from July, 1909, to August, 1914."

"The power of congress to regulate interstate commerce does not authorize it to do so by taxing producers either of agriculture or industry before they enter interstate commerce, or otherwise to control their production merely because their production may indirectly affect interstate commerce."

Main Issue of Case.

"The issue is not, as the government contends, whether congress can appropriate funds raised by general taxation for any purpose deemed by congress in furtherance of the 'general welfare,' but whether congress has any power to control or regulate matters left to the states and lay a special tax for that purpose."

"The power to determine what the law shall be, what property shall be affected by taxation, or regulation, and what standards shall

GOVERNMENT TO IGNORE RULING OF OWN COURTS

Will Continue Taking Process Taxes From Those Who'll Pay

Washington, July 16.—(AP)—Prompt appeal to the Supreme Court of the adverse ruling on the constitutionality of processing taxes by a Circuit Court of Appeals at Boston was promised today by Justice Department lawyers.

Pending an opportunity to study the decision, AAA officials declined to comment. Previously government attorneys had said the case would be appealed regardless of the ruling, and that a final decision on constitutionality of the AAA and the processing taxes was expected "before Christmas."

Attorney General Cummings and lawyers in his tax division said the Hoosac case probably would control more than 150 other suits now on file in various federal courts attacking the processing taxes and asking refunds and injunctions against payments.

They had predicted there would be little activity on these cases pending the supreme court ruling. Benefit payments to millions of farmers and nearly a billion dollars in collected taxes are involved.

Frank J. Wideman, Assistant Attorney General in charge of tax cases, said the decision will not stop processing tax collections.

Ikkes Not Satisfied

And in the face of the Cincinnati Circuit Court decision yesterday denying federal power to condemn land for housing projects, Secretary Ikkes said today he was considering filing of condemnation suit against the site of a project in Minneapolis.

The Justice Department had planned to file a suit in Federal District Court at Minneapolis this morning but Ikkes said it was deferred at the last minute because "a decision on policy had to be made."

He said that three other condemnation suits now pending, in addition to the Louisville case ruled on yesterday by the Cincinnati Circuit Court had not been withdrawn.

Declining to say whether an appeal from the Cincinnati case would be carried to the supreme court, Ikkes declared it was "probable" that federal power to condemn land would be tested by the high tribunal "somehow."

General Injured in Bailing Out of Plane Which Caught Fire

Kingman, Ariz., July 16.—(AP)—Maj. Gen. George E. Leach, head of the National Guard, nursed a lacerated arm today and joked about wandering for hours through Arizona wastelands after "bailing out" of a burning army airplane.

Flying from Washington, D. C., to Santa Maria, Calif., the general parachuted to safety, while the pilot of the ship, Capt. Charles M. Cummings, flew on for about 10 miles before abandoning the burning plane.

A widespread search for the general was under way when he appeared here shortly before midnight.

Captain Cummings landed near a ranchhouse and quickly organized a searching party and later hurried to Seligman to notify war department officials in Washington of the mishap. Rescue planes and two National Guard companies had been sent into the area.

Python and Lion Bow to Man in Wild Animal Camp But Not Until They Had Laid Low Two Trainers

Amityville, N. Y., July 16.—(AP)—Two untamed creatures of the jungle—a python and a lion—bowed to man today, but not until they had laid low two of their captors.

The victims were trainers at the wild animal camp of Frank Buck, noted jungle explorer.

The python attacked Otis Lloyd yesterday as it was being taken from a cage in which it had been brought from the Malay jungle. It coiled its 26-foot body around

Decision is Second Major Blow to New Deal Legislation

Washington, July 16.—(AP)—New Deal legislation, which suffered a number of setbacks in the Supreme Court last spring, has felt two more judicial blows in the last two days.

At Boston, a United States Circuit Court today held unconstitutional the collection of processing taxes imposed under the Agricultural Adjustment Act.

Yesterday a Circuit Court at Cincinnati, in a Louisville case ruled that the federal government could not exercise the power of eminent domain in acquiring land for housing projects.

The New Deal was first hit hard by the courts when section 5 (C) of the National Industrial Recovery Act, giving the president the power to regulate shipments of illegally-produced oil, was held by the supreme court to be an unauthorized delegation of legislative power.

Next came the famous gold clause cases, in which the administration both won and lost ground. The high court ruled that the government could not go back on its promise to pay its own bonds in gold or the equivalent. By a 5-4 decision, however, it held that bondholders who brought the suits in question had failed to show they actually were damaged by the government's policy. Legislation to prevent such bondholders from filing new suits and attempting to prove they had been damaged has been proposed by President Roosevelt.

The railroad pension act, while not an administration measure, involved questions similar to those raised by the New Deal social legislation. It was knocked out by the supreme court.

Greatest Set-Back.

The greatest setback to the administration was the "triple play" of May 27. The supreme court first ruled that the president could not remove a member of a quasi-judicial body except for cause in a case involving the ousting of a member of the Federal Trade Commission who died before the case was decided.

The court next ruled unconstitutional a section of the Frazier-Lemke act granting a virtual five-year moratorium on farm mortgages. This was not an administration measure, but Roosevelt had signed the bill.

Then, in the Schechter poultry case came the unanimous decision knocking out all NRA codes. The court ruled in that case that congress had improperly delegated code-making powers to the president, and the federal government could not regulate intra-state business and industry.

Government Enjoined

Springfield, Ill., July 16.—(AP)—The U. S. District Court has ruled the government temporarily cannot collect processing taxes from twelve firms in central and southern Illinois.

Eleven milling companies and one packing firm have been granted a temporary order restraining the government from collecting the taxes. They claimed the AAA was unconstitutional.

Judge Charles G. Briggie issued the order last Friday, declaring the constitutionality of the act appeared at least doubtful. He held that a section of the act saying no injunction should be issued to prevent the collection of the taxes did not apply due to extraordinary circumstances in the cases involved.

Remedy Doubtful

"The equitable powers of the court were invoked, in spite of the prohibitory provisions of the section relating to injunctions because of the character of the penalties for failure of the companies to pay the taxes and the multiplicity of the suits required to get refunds from the government," Judge Briggie said.

The court held the "adequacy of the legal remedy available to taxpayers was doubtful, apparently the constitutionality of the AAA was at least doubtful and there was some doubt the processing taxes were really a tax."

In issuing the restraining order, Judge Briggie held the companies should pay the taxes to the clerk of the court pending decision of the constitutionality of the act.

The milling companies were chiefly from southern Illinois.

Abductors Unnerved by Girl's Screaming so They Release Her

Portland Ore., July 16—(AP)—Nelia McCray, 13, unnerved her captors by her screams and was released early today after she was seized in her bedroom and carried away in an automobile by three men, police reported.

Patrolmen Cliff Miller and Ferdinand Gaunt said the girl reported she bit through her gag and started screaming so loudly that her captors freed her.

She was found by W. W. Waller, one of the neighbors who heard her terrified cries when she was taken from her bedroom shortly before midnight. Waller and others had joined in the search. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert McCray, also reported hearing her screams before she disappeared.

The officers reported the family was of modest circumstances and doubted if there was any intention to hold the girl for ransom.

Two Britons Met Death in Wreckage of Plane

London, July 16—(AP)—Two persons were killed today in the blazing wreckage of an airplane which crashed at the edge of Heston air-drome after a takeoff for Spithead for the silver jubilee review of the British fleet.

The plane crashed as it lost altitude after taking off with seven passengers and burst into flames almost immediately. The dead were two passengers, Major J. H. Hobbs and H. Newhouse. The pilot and the five other passengers, including one woman, Margaret Vickers, were rushed to a hospital suffering from burns and injuries.

DROVE OVER SLEEPER

Athens, Tenn., July 16—(AP)—Lois Raby, 12, walked from her home in her sleep and lay down on a paved highway. Oliver Nichols, autoist, thought she was a piece of paper. He drove over her. Her cuts and bruises were only superficial.

NEW KIND RUSTLING

Colfax, La., July 16—(AP)—Cattle rustling has a new twist in this country. Two men, under arrest, are accused of shooting cows and carrying them to market in their passenger automobile.

ROBBED RESTAURANT

Chicago—Walter Sang, 20, of Ottawa was captured after a chase through the loop when a pedestrian pointed him out to a policeman as a restaurant robber. Police said Sang admitted committing the holdup by using a piece of hard rubber to simulate a pistol.

The information bureau at New York police headquarters, asked how a certain man was to be found, and whose address was unknown, replied: "File a charge—we'll pick him up."

DIXON DURING DAY

ORCHESTRA REHEARSAL.
The Philharmonic orchestra will hold a rehearsal Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock in Woodman Hall.

BOY BREAKS ARM.
Earl, 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George LeFevre, route 2, suffered a fracture of his left arm between the elbow and wrist Monday when he fell from a load of hay. An X-ray was to be taken today to determine the full extent of the fracture.

ORDERS RECEIVERSHIP.
At a hearing before Judge Albert H. Manus in the circuit court this morning, the court ordered that a receiver be appointed in the Bradshaw estate to collect and disburse rentals and receipts. The receiver was to be named and furnish bond this afternoon.

IS EMBARRASSED.
Harold Huyett, the genial and hustling clerk at Covert's Coffee Shop, is getting a lot of unwarranted "razzing" today because a South Dixon man, sentenced to the state farm at Vandalla yesterday for chicken stealing, has the same name as his. The Harold at Covert's likes chicken—but not that well.

TO ATTEND CONVENTION.
Gilroy Nicol, local representative of Household Paper Products Co., will spend three days this week at a general convention of the district at Twin Lakes, Wis. The convention will be held Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. District managers will plan the content of the Christmas card output for 1935 and decide upon the most attractive designs.

IN TRAFFIC COURT.
Nine arrests since noon yesterday were recorded on the blotter at the police station this morning in the drive against speeders and reckless drivers, which is being conducted by the police. All of the offenders were arraigned in police court and paid fines for the violations. The campaign to eliminate traffic violations in the city in connection with the state-wide safety drive is continuing today. Speeding and violation of stop signs continued to lead the list of violations.

Padlock Gas Tanks of Benton Fire Apparatus

Benton, Ill., July 16—(AP)—Padlocks on the gas tanks have become standard equipment of the Benton fire department, to insure the community of the maximum fire protection.

Fire Chief Harry Durham said thieves insisted on stealing gasoline from the fire trucks. He ordered out the padlocks so enough fuel would be on hand to answer all alarms.

NELLIE FLAG RETIRED

Lexington, Ky., July 16—(AP)—Nellie Flag, which ruled the favorite for the Kentucky Derby this year, but came in fourth, will be retired from the turf. Dick McMahon, manager of Warren Wright's Calumet Farm, said today. The filly, now in Chicago, will be placed among the brood mares at Calumet Farm.

Britain to Spend Over $25,000,000 in Defense

London, July 16—(AP)—Great Britain apportioned more than $25,000,000 today to maintain its own security by strengthening its air defense as diplomats confronted by the new Italian mobilization, persisted in seeking a peaceful solution to the Italo-Ethiopian dispute.

Sparta Farmer and His Daughter Recover From Bites of Rattlesnake

Sparta, Ill., July 16—(AP)—Bitten by rattlesnakes, a 47-year-old Ava, Ill. farmer and a 10-year-old Sparta girl are recovering today. Prompt action by her brother, who sucked the poison from the wound, probably saved the life of the girl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Falkenheimer.

IDLE MAN SUICIDES

Hartford, Ill., July 16—(AP)—A two-day search for Floyd Alexander unemployed laborer, ended today when his body was found in a closed valve box at a Roxana Oil Company refinery near here.

Police said they believed he had entered the valve box voluntarily. Death was caused by petroleum fumes.

Owed His Marketer

Jerseyville, Ill., July 16—(AP)—Jerseyville's apple harvest has come to a halt—at least temporarily—because of the high cost of everything but the fruit.

Albert Gotway, an orchardist, shipped 38 bushels of yellow transparent apples to the St. Louis market. After the fruit had been sold he was obliged to advance $4 more than he received to pay the marketing costs.

Says Balance—

govern the administrative officers in administering acts of congress, has never been held to be an administrative function.

"The power to impose a tax and to determine what property shall bear a tax can only be determined by the legislative department of the government. If congress undertakes to lay down a guide for an administrative officer to follow in carrying out its mandates, it must be an intelligible and a reasonably definite standard."

Balance No Standard.
"The balance between production and consumption of certain commodities or the equalizing of the purchasing power thereof between certain widely separated periods alone forms no such standard."

"If congress has the power to control or regulate the production of agricultural products within the several states, and assess a tax on their processing or sale for that purpose, it is obviously legislative in character. Query then has congress set up any definite standard for the secretary's action in making rental or benefit payments to producers and thereby imposing a processing tax?"

"We find no definite, intelligible standard, set up in the act for determining when the secretary shall pay rental or benefit payments in order to reduce production of any particular commodity except in his own judgment as to what will effectuate the purpose of the act."

Act Without Standard
"The declaration of the emergency in the agricultural act contains no such standard for the Secretary of Agriculture to follow in entering into restrictive agreement with producers of agricultural products. It is merely a statement of conditions, which in the judgment of congress warranted legislative action."

"Without requiring any findings to warrant his action, congress has empowered him, in conjunction with the producers, to determine when a reduction of acreage of production of any one of the agricultural commodities which it has termed basis should be resorted to to accomplish the act, when rental or benefit payments are to be made and in what amounts, and thereby to determine through the initiation of the benefit payments or rentals the consequent imposition of a tax."

No Findings of Facts
"The secretary made no findings of facts as to why he selected the first list of basis commodities for reducing acreage or production, and was not required to do so. He simply made a proclamation; rental or benefit payments are to be made with respect to cotton; and a processing tax automatically followed."

FOUR HELD FOR
DEATH OF ROCK-
FORD YOUNG MAN

Belvidere Park Tragedy Solved by Four Arrests Today

Belvidere, Ill., July 16—(AP)—Four youths, three of them recent graduates of Belvidere high school and the other a sophomore in the school, were held today on charges of manslaughter in the death of Clifford Smith, 20, of Rockford, Ill.

Smith bled to death after arteries in his arm pit were severed by broken glass in an automobile window. He allegedly was dragged alongside a moving automobile after he resisted having a spotlight played upon him and a young woman companion as they were sitting in a parked car.

The four held were: Vincent Knox, 19, and his brother, Wendell, 17, of Cherry Valley; and Derwood Silvius, 19, and Maynard John, 19, of Belvidere. Bonds were set at $1,500 each and a hearing was set for Saturday morning.

Smith and Paul Stinson, 20, of Rockford, and Mary Alice Edmond, 19, and Virginia McCabe, 16, of Belvidere, had parked their car in Belvidere park Sunday night and were listening to the car radio when a spotlight was flashed upon them.

Smith became angered, his companions said, and went to the other car, witnesses said he struck at one of his tormentors through the car window and that one of the occupants grabbed his arm. The car started at that moment and Smith's arm broke the window, the glass severing the arteries.

Philadelphia Post-Workers Escape Disciplinary Acts

Washington, July 16—(AP)—Civil service commission officials said today a prolonged investigation had disclosed evidence of contributions to political campaign funds by postal employees in Philadelphia but that no disciplinary action would be taken.

Harry B. Mitchell, president of the commission, said the inquiry was ordered as a result of an anonymous complaint charging certain officers of the Letter Carriers' Association in Philadelphia with soliciting contributions from the carriers to be used for the association's legislative program and that the money had been turned over to a political campaign fund.

Mitchell said it also had been charged that changes in the supervisory force in the Philadelphia postoffice were made as a result of "political considerations."

BREAD AND ROSES.

By Joseph Fort Newton.
CARL SANDBURG defines poetry as the synthesis of biscuits and hyacinths. That also defines life, which must be a blend of bread and roses, or it can hardly be called life at all.

Or as Edwin Markham put it, "bread, beauty and brotherhood"; and with him agrees the Koran: "If I had but two loaves of bread, I would sell one and buy hyacinths, for beauty is the bread of the soul."

What two poets and one prophet unite to tell us is that man does not live by bread alone; he must have beauty too. All that we go, everything we handle, ought to combine these two aides of life.

If bread is a symbol of the commonplace necessities of life, its whole wheat, so to say, roses represent its loveliness—the glory of a sunset, the smile of a baby, the ecstasy of great music; all the many things which enhance life with mystery, color and fragrance.

Yet how ugly much of our life is, ugly beyond the power of words to tell. No wonder we are stifled and starved of soul, blind to beauty when she passes with the glint of sunlight on her wings!

Of course, a lot of hard, dirty, ugly work must be done in the world, at least until the machine has set us free. But there is no reason why so much of life should be hideous and horrible to see.

After all, beauty is as cheap as ugliness but we lack taste, insight, a sense of the gracious ministry of beauty. We shut up art in museums as we shut up religion in shrines, and leave life bare.

How much we need a Ruskin in America to preach the gospel of beauty. For life without beauty is brutality, and labor without loveliness becomes toil, moil, and a grinding drudgery without joy.

Many of our towns are splashes on the landscape, and our cities, if they have beauty-spots, shade off into shabbiness—more often into a gaunt, gray drabness, dismal and forbidding.

"Let the beauty of the Lord, our God, be upon us," prayed an ancient poet. It is upon us, only we have no eyes to see it!

Daughter of Navy Officer Marries

Of interest to relatives in Dixon is the article taken from the Herald Tribune of Bethlehem, Pa., of June 22nd, printed below. Mrs. Harold Fuller of 1021 E. Chamberlain street and Miss Anne Eustace of Assembly Park are cousins of Commander Wm. Greetham, who formerly lived in Dixon.

The article:
Bethlehem, Pa., June 22—Miss Virginia Williston Greetham, daughter of Commander William D. Greetham, U. S. N. (retired) and Mrs. Greetham, and Robert Stanley Barnes, son of Mr. Amos Barnes of Ridgely Park, Philadelphia, were married this evening in the rectory of St. Anne's Church, the Rev. Joseph Mooney officiating.

The bride's sisters, Mrs. Jackson D. Altizer, of Charleston, W. Va., and Miss Camilla Greetham, of Bethlehem, were her attendants. She was given in marriage by her father, Mr. Philip Barnes, of the University Club was best man. The bride is the granddaughter of the Rev. H. W. Greetham, of the Episcopal diocese of South Florida and the great-granddaughter of Judge John V. Eustace of the Circuit Court of the 13th judicial district of Illinois. She also is a descendant of Lieutenant Colonel Olmstead, who served in the Continental Army. She studied at Liberty High School and Moravian Seminary and College for Women. Mr. Barnes is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania and is associated with the Bethlehem Steel Company in the construction and building department.

Girls from Northern Illinois Marry

Miss Esther Schreiner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Schreiner of Chadwick, became the bride of Lloyd Handle, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Handle, also of Chadwick, last Tuesday at 7:30 P. M., at the Lutheran parsonage in Mount Carroll. The Rev. F. H. Pettehoff officiated.

Mr. and Mrs. George Doden, brother-in-law and sister of the bride, attended the couple.

The bride wore a pink crepe frock with white accessories, and Mrs. Doden wore yellow crepe with white accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Handle are spending their honeymoon at the Wisconsin Dells, and will return to make their home in the Harris apartment at Chadwick.

Miss Ruby Inas Onley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Onley of Kings, and Smith Walker, son of William Walker of Oregon, were married Friday at 8 P. M. at the Onley home. A reception followed the ceremony. The couple will reside on the William Walker farm.

Live Wire 4-H Club Met Wednes.

The Live Wire 4-H Club met at the home of their leader, Mrs. McCourt, July 10th. Roll call was answered by the name of a kitchen utensil and eight girls responded. The minutes of the last meeting were read. The girls and their leader discussed the work of the demonstration team. Roll call at next meeting will be responded to by the name of a salad.

Helen Kellar gave a demonstration of a salad.

The business meeting then adjourned and tempting refreshments were served. The next meeting will be held at the home of Helen Fredericks, July 16th.

NICELY LOCATED AT POCASSET HEIGHTS, CAPE COD

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lager are now nicely located at Pocasset Heights, Cape Cod.

CLUB TO HEAR HILLBILLY GIRLS

The Labboe Club held their monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. D. S. Hollingsworth.

During the business session it was decided to give an ice cream social Saturday night near the cement plant east of Dixon. Entertainment will be furnished during the entire evening by the Hillbilly Girls, better known as Gladys, Faith and Jo.

There will be a beauty contest, also. Much work is being put into the social and it is hoped that there will be a large attendance. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

After the business session, dainty refreshments were served by the hostess.

Women Too Busy to Attend Convention

Seattle, July 16.—(AP)—There may be fewer delegates this year at the Business and Professional Women's annual convention but the national president said today it's because the business depression apparently is "on the way out."

Mrs. Geline MacDonald Bowman, head of the women's group which formally opens its convention here tonight, seemed pleased, however, over a possible falling off in delegates.

"Many women have written me they are so rushed with business that for the first time since 1929 they will be unable to attend the national convention," she said.

"It looks as if the depression were on the way out."

There were about 2,000 out of a membership of 60,000 here for the pre-convention group meeting which started yesterday and continues until tonight's opening session.

Mrs. Eichler Hostess at Breakfast

Mrs. Isador Eichler entertained with three tables of bridge at her home Monday morning, preceded by a breakfast at the Rice Tea Room, honoring Mrs. Arthur Stocke who is leaving Wednesday to join her husband in California. Garden flowers were the decorations. A tempting breakfast was served.

Mrs. Lyle Prescott received the favor for high honors and Miss Clara Armington won the consolation favor. Mrs. Stocke was presented a lovely guest favor. Her friends join those of her husband in wishing them happiness but regret their departure from Dixon.

So. Dixon Community Club Meeting

The members of the South Dixon Community Club met with Mrs. David Moore on Wednesday afternoon, with a fair attendance of members and a few visitors.

After the business meeting 500 was enjoyed. The first prize went to Mrs. Roy Fischer and the low prize to Mrs. J. Lautzenheiser. The next meeting will be held with Mrs. John Patterson, Wednesday afternoon, July 24th.

Mrs. Moore was assisted by Mrs. John Patterson and Mrs. Roy Fischer in serving a delicious luncheon.

Brides Honored At Linen Shower

On Thursday evening Mrs. Alden Wolfe and Mrs. Frank Wolfe of Walnut, Ill., were entertained at the Albert Lengel home with a linen shower.

After an enjoyable social evening, delicious refreshments were served. A number of useful gifts were presented to the recent brides who were formerly Ethel and Helen Noble. Many good wishes were extended to them by the twenty guests present, for future happiness.

I Thought--

By Helen Welshimer

I thought if long miles marched between
The towns where you and I
Performed our tasks and kept our dreams,
Perhaps as days went by,
I would forget the little things
That made you dear—too dear—
And I should find serenity
Again if you weren't near.

But I have come to love you more,
Of that I'm very sure.
They are so wrong who'd have me think
That absence works a cure!

Variety of Menus Achieved With Seasonable Fruits Now on Market

By Mary Lou Weaver
SCHAUM TORTE WITH FRESH PEACHES

A very distinctive dessert, either for a party or for the festive home dinner is a Torte. The success of this marvelous confection lies in the variety of fruits used.

mixers and they are not only labor product is much finer and much more satisfactory. However this dessert can be made by good old muscle-power, providing the rotary egg beater is of the sturdier type, as well as the muscles propelling it. This particular recipe yields 10 generous servings.

9 egg whites
3 cups fine granulated sugar
1 1/2 tablespoons cider vinegar
1 1/2 teaspoons vanilla
Sliced fresh peaches
Whipping cream
Combine unbeaten egg whites with sugar and stir until the mixture is white. Add the vanilla and vinegar; then beat with rotary beater, or in electric mixer, until it is so stiff that mixture dropped from beater into bowl, holds its shape. Carefully butter and flour ten inch form pans (two) or layer cake pans of the same size, if you do not have form pans. Turn mixture into pans and bake one hour and a quarter in a cool oven, not more than 275 degrees. Let 1/2 Torte cool thoroughly, before removing from pans. Turn one cake upside down on a lovely serving plate, spread with whipped cream, arrange thinly sliced fresh peaches over this then sprinkle peaches with powdered sugar. Put the other cake on, top side up, garnish it with whipped cream, put on more sliced peaches, sprinkle with powdered sugar, and make a border of whipped cream around the edge, with your cake decorating set. If you have one, otherwise you can make a very pretty border with a spoon.

FROZEN BANANA SALAD

Another delicious dessert salad is this frozen Banana salad—made onaise. Soften cheese and add to mayonnaise, mixing well. Add the pineapple, cherries and nut meats, and fold in the cream. When well mixed, fold in the cubed bananas, turn into freezing tray and freeze three hours. Serve on crisp lettuce, with wafers—either salted ones or the new "Tasty" wafers that are a delicious combination of cracker and pastry, especially suited to salads.

WHITE FRUIT SALAD
2 tablespoons granulated gelatin
1-2 cup cold fruit juice
1 cup hot fruit juice

1 cup cream, whipped
1-4 cup powdered sugar
1 cup chopped pineapple

1 cup seedless white grapes
1-2 cup cold fruit juice
Soak gelatin in cold fruit juice, dissolve in boiling hot fruit juice. When chilled and beginning to set, carefully fold in the mayonnaise, whipped cream, sugar, fruit and nuts. Pour into a mold to become firm, then unmold on crisp lettuce.

IS GOING OVER WITH A BANG!

Never before in our 35 years of shoe retailing have we experienced such wonderful response to a sales announcement.

There is, of course a reason; Never before have we slaughtered prices so much! We had a backward, rainy spring that left us with too many white shoes, and as we have always maintained a policy of complete Clearance of ALL footwear before a new season comes in, it was necessary to cut prices deeper and more drastically this year in order to accomplish this.

Come in this week! The shoes are selling out fast at these low prices and you must ACT AT ONCE. If you will not be one of those who say, "I wish I had 'bought' instead of, 'Yes, I purchased several pairs and saved some real money."

DEMOCRACY LOSES ITS FEAR OF KING'S RULE

The World War, as we all fondly hoped, was fought to make the world safe for democracy. Since the existence of a king is usually an obstacle in democracy's path, one of our greatest objectives was to see Hohenzollerns and Hapsburgs chased away from their thrones forever. We got our wish. Or, at any rate, we thought we did. The central powers lost their royal families, and in the dark days that followed we felt that this, at least, was one definite and positive benefit gained by the war. And now Austria prepares to invite the Hapsburgs back to their ancient throne—and almost nobody seems to be especially worried about it!

It would be an ironic thing if, 17 years after the war, young Archduke Otto should return to Austria at the invitation of the people who dethroned him; yet the tide of history can pull in some strange directions, at times, and the confusion of the post-war years may resolve itself in an altogether unexpected manner.

But the significant point about this particular development is not that Austria wants the Hapsburgs back but that nobody else seems inclined to object very much.

It reflects a widespread disillusionment with the avowed objects for which the war was fought. More than that, it reveals our recognition of the fact that democracy can be effectively and thoroughly stifled even when there is no king within a thousand miles.

Russia lost its czar and Germany lost its kaiser—yet there is actually less democracy in those two countries than there was before the war. Italy has kept its king, deprived him of power—and, simultaneously, has knocked democracy on the head. Austria and Hungary discarded the Hapsburgs, and got less freedom instead of more.

All of this has grown out of an intense human weariness, mingled with fear, suspicion and a growing lack of confidence in the ability of people in the mass to solve their problems. The trend has been toward strong authoritarian governments. Democracy is no longer in danger from kings, but from a widespread feeling that democracy itself is played out.

This being the case, why should not Austria recall the Hapsburgs if she pleases? We who still cling to the democratic ideal need not worry about that. It is our task to prove that democracy can, after all, prove an effective means of government in a world that lives in a continual state of crisis.

If we can do that, the return of Archduke Otto will prove one of the least important of all post-war developments.

CARELESSNESS AT CROSSINGS

The grade crossing accident is one of the leading contributors to our auto traffic death list. And the thing every driver should remember is that in most cases such accidents are the fault of the motorists themselves.

Figures compiled by the Pennsylvania Railroad System show that during the first four months of this year, one-third of all grade crossing accidents occurred when motorists drove into the sides of trains. And in exactly half of these cases, the train involved was either standing still or moving at a snail's pace of less than 10 miles an hour.

The blithe carelessness with which some drivers approach railroad crossings could not be illustrated more clearly. It is sheer folly to drive up to any crossing without making absolutely sure that no train is in sight; but to blunder against a train that is actually on the crossing at the time is the next thing to simple suicide.

SOCIETY'S PLAYHOUSE?

It is probably a good thing for the cause of art that Congress has voted a federal incorporation for a national theater. This organization, a private institution dedicated to "art for art's sake," will strive to present drama of the highest type and to stir up new interest in the theater among the public generally.

Such aims are of a type that no one can fail to commend; yet it is with a faint feeling of misgiving that one reads that the incorporators are—to quote a United Press dispatch—"45 social leaders."

If a national theater enlists the aid of working dramatists, producers and actors, it can be an excellent thing. If, however, it merely serves as an excuse for making a handful of social leaders think that they are being useful and artistic, it can be pretty dismal. It is to be hoped that this latter pitfall will be avoided.

BEYOND TEMPTATION

Senator Borah offers meaty food for thought in his declaration that the present moment is an extremely bad time to talk of putting a supreme court justice into the race for the presidency.

This, says the senator, is "a subtle suggestion to all members of the court that in rendering opinions on constitutional law they should keep in mind not only the law, but also the reward which awaits those who—while interpreting the Constitution—also interpret popular sentiment."

The great value of the supreme court is that it is above politics and partisan sentiment. It can hardly be kept that way if its justices are to be looked upon as available presidential timber.

Real ladies never take their positions too seriously. Only phonies do that.—Elsa Maxwell, American writer.

I am much happier, believe me, now that I am free from the insincerities of Hollywood.—Ramon Novarro.

New Threat to Auto Speeder

A new curb on auto speeders that promises startling results is shown in operation here—the Massachusetts State College highway speed meter. As a car passes the first of the two light source poles shown across the road, it starts the meter and as it passes the second 18 inches distant, the recording instrument's operation is stopped giving the speed within the fraction of a mile at 30 and within two miles an hour at 60.

Labor War Threatens Sugar Bowl

The man with the hoe, in this instance, is an important contributor to the nation's sugar supply. He is one of hundreds who till the sugar beet fields of Ohio. He and his comrades have become industrialized, belong to the Agricultural Workers' Union and bitterly contend that the back-breaking labor of wielding a short handled hoe is worth more than $10 an acre. When growers refused their demands, they threatened to strike on the 10,000 acres they cultivate but compromised in an agreement to continue at the present scale until their contracts expire.

BRITAIN WILL IMPORT LESS U. S. PORK NOW

173,381,000 Pounds Are
Exported in 1928;
13 Million Now

Lee County hog producers will be able to sell a fifth less pork to Great Britain during July, August and September than during the corresponding period of 1934, according to statement based on the recent announcement that Great Britain's import quota from non-empire countries during these months would be 20.7 per cent less than it was during the same period of 1934. The United States will be allowed to export 8.1 per cent, or 13,010,220 pounds, to England under the three-month quota.

In 1928, the United States exported 173,381,000 pounds of pork products to Great Britain, an average of 43,345,000 every three months as compared to the 13,010,220 pound she will be able to export to that country during the same months of 1935. Before the World War, Great Britain imported large quantities of American pork as payment on debts owed her by this country and in exchange for other goods sold to the United States.

After the war Great Britain became a debtor to this country. Since her protective tariffs prevent her from exporting to the United States sufficient goods to pay the interest on her debts plus pork imports, she is forced to transfer her trade to other countries. American loans bolstered up the British pork trade until late in the twenties. When loans were withdrawn, this trade collapsed. Now, the American hog farmer is finding it necessary to temporarily adjust his production to the smaller demand.

Denmark has the lion's share of pork trade with the island kingdom, supplying 63.5 per cent of the non-empire quota, or 101,994,335 pounds, in the next three months.

Other non-empire countries sharing in the import quotas of pork to England are: The Netherlands, 9.5 per cent; Poland, 7.95 per cent; Sweden, 4.7 per cent, and Lithuania, 2.95 per cent. Russia, Estonia, Latvia, Finland and Argentina each have 1 per cent.

Great Britain changes the total poundage of non-empire pork imports periodically in accordance with the changes in supplies from domestic or empire sources. The permissible monthly average for the coming three months is actually large than for the first six months of the year, but is smaller than the corresponding period in 1934.

The Tree that Flowers AND DIES

AN 8 FEET SAGO PALM CLUSTER

FOR 15 years, a strange sort of palm rises slowly to a height of about 30 feet, in the islands of the East Indies. But just as soon as it shows signs of flowering, the natives hastily cut it down. For flowering means death to this plant, and its fruit would exhaust the starch that has been built up within its stout stem.

This is the Sago Palm, from which starchy tissue is extracted and grated into flour. This eventually becomes sago meal, used as a food by the East Indians, and exported to Europe as a feed for cattle.

Labuan, on the stamp shown here, is an island in the Malay Archipelago off the northwest coast of Borneo. It was ceded to Great Britain in 1846 and placed under the rule of the Straits Settlements in 1906.

PRICE DECLINE HALTS BUTTER IMPORTS NOW

Margin Between N. Y.
and London Price Too
Narrow

More normal milk production and the recent decline in domestic butter prices have brought a halt to imports of butter, according to information received from the Extension service, College of Agriculture, University of Illinois.

The margin between New York and London butter prices has narrowed to 10 cents, which is four cents less than the import duty. This has stopped all imports of butter, except possibly a small amount of some very low grades.

Some 20 million pounds of foreign butter were imported into this country during the first five months of 1935 to supplement abnormally light domestic supplies. Margarine production was increased 46 million pounds in the first three months over the corresponding period a year ago. Butter production during the first four months of 1935 was 40 million pounds below the corresponding period of 1934, but butter consumption had decreased 86 million pounds.

Total milk production on June 1 of this year was 5 per cent less than of June 1, 1934, but the average production was 9 per cent higher largely because of pasture conditions which were 77.7 per cent of normal as compared to 53 per cent last June.

Imports of butter are usually concentrated in the first four months of the year, decreasing when domestic prices decline with the coming of summer pastures and increased domestic production.

WHAT THE NEWS WAS AROUND DIXON IN YEARS GONE BY

50 YEARS AGO

The question of a soldiers monument for Lee county to be erected in the court house park as proposed by Supervisor Dysart was postponed until the next meeting of the board. Lee county is very much behind other counties of the state in such marks of respect for those who died that the country might live.

Dr. E. L. Hutton of this city was selected from a list of 17 applicants as chief surgeon in the All Saints hospital at Kansas City.

25 YEARS AGO

The City National bank of this city was among the first to make application to the secretary of the treasury at Washington, D. C., to be designated as a depository for postal savings funds of Dixon under a law recently enacted.

Michael Jordan, an aged resident of Dixon, passed away at his home 420 North Dement avenue at 6:45 last evening.

10 YEARS AGO

Dixon's "old men" golfers placed third in the tourney at Freeport country club.

Charles Darby, orchestra leader of this city, sustained injuries and was rendered unconscious when he misjudged the depth of the bathing pool at Starved Rock park and in a leap from the diving board struck his head against the bottom of the cement tank.

Lillian Elssner, all of Amboy, Randall Woreff of Lanark, Virginia Van Bibber of Dixon and Jim Watson of Rockford.

Mrs. M. B. MacKinnon and daughter Clara and granddaughter Aledo were visitors at the H. W. Parker home in Sterling Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Boone and family enjoyed a picnic supper at Lowell Park Sunday evening.

Louis Fredericks, Tom Leady of Elmhurst and Martin Schuette left Monday on a camping trip along the Mississippi river. The Wm. Kehoe family expect to join them later in the week.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Smith, daughter Mabel and Leslie Spencer were supper guests at the Willis Proctor home in Dixon Sunday.

Mrs. Alma Lewis, son LaVerne and daughters Ethel, Rachel and Ida spent the week end in Peoria at the Ben Lewis home.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard James and two sons of LaGrange spent Sunday with the former's mother, Mrs. P. M. James.

Hachel Whitnauer of Ashton spent Sunday in Amboy with her mother, Mrs. Lusher.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Biester and son Howard and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Biester of Aurora were visitors at the C. A. Entorf home Sunday.

Mrs. Herman Biester will be remembered as Miss Inghorg Johansen, former Supt. of Amboy hospital.

While many Americans are leaving Abyssinia because of the threat of war with Italy, Presbyterian doctors, nurses, and missionaries with few exceptions are likely to remain, as they have worked in close co-operation with Emperor Haile Selassie in Addis Ababa. Above is shown the George Memorial hospital in the Abyssinian capital, named after W. S. George of E. Palestine. O., a generous contributor. ## ASHTON NEWS

Ashton — The Reiss family held their first family reunion this year at Point Park, north of Clinton, Ia., at which there were 65 in attendance, some coming from Garrison and Clinton, Ia., and a good many of the number coming from Ashton and Dixon.

The location was ideal as a central gathering place, the beautiful well kept park being situated on a high bluff overlooking miles of beautiful country along the Mississippi river.

The date for the second reunion was set for the first Sunday in July next year and the same location chosen. Miss May Reiss of Garrison, Ia., was chosen president, Miss Minet Wagner of Dixon, vice president, and Mrs. Emma Hart as secretary and treasurer. Orville Smith, Charlie Mall and Leland Reiss were appointed a program committee.

Those in attendance from this community were: Mr. and Mrs. Ed Heimbaugh, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mall, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Sachs, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Heibenthal, Mr. and Mrs. George Wagner, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Herwig and son Eugene, Mrs. Emma Hart and sons Raymond and Stanley, Mrs. Emma Yenerick, Mrs. Edward Klenke, Mrs. George H. Kersten, Mr. and Mrs. George Sandrock, Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Wagner and daughter Mary Jane, Mr.

and Mrs. Arthur Wagner and daughter Esther, John J. Wagner and daughter Alta, Mrs. Sarah Smith and son Orville, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wagner of Franklin Grove.

Mrs. Kenneth Hogan of near Chana was the honored guest at a stork shower given at the home of Mrs. John Drummond last Tuesday afternoon. The afternoon was spent in music and visiting at the close of which Mrs. Drummond served delicious refreshments.

Those present were Mrs. Mabel Drummond of Rockford, Mrs. Guy Shippee and daughter Leadele of Sterling, Mrs. Louis McRoberts of Oregon, Mrs. Joseph Williams, Mrs. Selande Drummond, Mrs. Martin Witzel, and Mrs. Ray Oellig and daughter Beverly of Rochelle, Mrs. John Jacobs, Mrs. Aaron Ehnen, daughter Dorothy and son Raymond, Miss Harriet Hogan, Mrs. Allen Grant, and Mrs. Hogan and son Russell of Chana, Mrs. Clarence Drummond, Mrs. Edgar Shippee and daughter Ruby of Ashton.

William Tadd and son Donald of Melvin, Ia., who have been visiting relatives here were accompanied home by the former's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Tadd, Sr., and Mrs. Albert Tadd of DeKalb, who spent the past week visiting relatives in Iowa.

Miss Harriett Butler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Butler of Bradford township has been awarded the scholarship for that township, Miss Harriett having an average of 99 1/2, which was the highest in the county. This scholarship entitles her to a course in any state teachers' college.

The marriage of Miss Verna Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Smith and Raymond Cook, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Bucher of Franklin Grove took place at the M. E. church of Galena Saturday, June 29, the impressive single ring ceremony being used. The couple were attended by Miss Noma Maronde of Franklin Grove and Elmie Tate of Dixon.

After a short wedding trip the couple returned to Franklin Grove where they will make their home with the bride's grandfather, Joseph Ling for whom Mrs. Cook has made a home since the death of her grandmother. Mr. Cook is employed in Franklin Grove.

Mrs. Ralph L. Schaller, son Herbert and daughter Gwendolyn are visiting this week at the home of her mother, Mrs. Tiesie at Earlville, Ia.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Obourn are entertaining as their guests this week, Mrs. Obourn's sister, Mrs. Roy Palmer and son Howard of Normal.

INDICATE HUGE SUCCESS; FOWL CONVENTION

Prominent Speakers Arranged for Danville Poultry Show

Extensive preparations and early indications of a large attendance of both members and poultrymen from all over the country give an unusual promise that the 60th annual convention of the American Poultry Association to be held in Danville, Ill., August 6, 7 and 8, will be one of the most successful in the history of the organization.

The yearly meeting of the Illinois State Poultry Association will be held simultaneously thus adding further importance to the meeting and assuring additional attendance from Illinois and adjoining states.

Numerous prominent speakers already have been assigned a place on the program, these including nationally-known poultry authorities, officers of leading breed associations, university experts and government officials. Every effort is being made to arrange a program that not only will be interesting but one that will be educational and instructive. Entertainment features also have been stressed prominently so that visiting poultrymen and their wives will find the convention well worth attending from every standpoint.

The selection of Danville as the choice of the A. P. A. for its important 60th meeting marks another step forward in the progress of the city as a leading poultry center. More and more poultry activities have been carried out in Danville which is the center of a rich and well-known poultry producing section. The city offers excellent facilities for the convention and civic authorities are cooperating in many ways toward making the coming event a success.

It is noteworthy, also, that Danville is the home of the general offices of the Consolidated Products Company, nationally-known manufacturers of Semi-Solid Buttermilk, a leading poultry feed, and the only important company in the country that manufactures buttermilk products exclusively. Long identified with the poultry industry and known for its cooperation with that industry, the Consolidated Products Company is giving its full assistance to civic and convention authorities and officials of the organization will take a prominent part on the program.

SOLONS PASSED FARM BILLS ON STATE DOCKET

Two Thousand Bills Considered. 390 Are Passed

Passage of the farm-to-market road bill, a measure providing for disconnection of lands from cities and villages, amendment of the State Farm Storage Act and passage of the controversial filled milk bill were among the developments of chief interest to agriculture in the closing hour of the 59th General Assembly, reports the Illinois Agricultural Association.

Of approximately 2,000 bills considered by the legislature during the session which ended June 29, about 390 of them were approved by both Houses. These include a number of bills increasing taxes chief among which is the 50 per cent increase in the occupational tax to three per cent and extending the tax to utilities. A number of bills also authorized slight increases in property taxes subject to referendum. These are not considered particularly harmful because the people affected will have an opportunity to decide whether or not local taxes for school and other purposes shall be increased.

The State Commission system of unemployment relief will be continued until March 1, 1937. An appropriation of $45,000,000 was made to carry on this work. Controversy over unemployment relief occupied a large part of the session. The administration finally won its fight to continue the Relief Commission against formidable opposition in both Houses. Many legislators asserted that greater economy and efficiency would follow administration of relief through county and local authorities.

The Illinois Agricultural Association sponsored the Lammann and Lantz road bills, which finally passed both Houses, in the interest of securing a maximum mileage of farm-to-market road improvement out of Federal funds allotted to Illinois. The bills also provide for an equitable distribution of road improvement work among the counties based on the total mileage of road and the total mileage of unimproved road in each county. They also would permit co-operation between state, county and township highway authorities in the improvement program. Workmen taken from the relief rolls will do as much of the labor as possible. The key bill provides that at least 50 per cent of Federal work relief funds coming to Illinois for roads and streets are to be spent on secondary road improvement.

The filled milk bill if allowed to become law will have the effect of stopping the manufacture by September 1 of evaporated milk from which the butterfat has been removed and replaced with coconut oil. Dairy men opposed this measure because it hurts the market for cream and butterfat.

The State Farm Storage Act amendments provide for storage of soybeans, cowpeas and cereal grains as well as corn, authorize appointment of county warehouse boards in the counties, and set the limits of bonds to be furnished by the treasurer of the County Warehouse Board and the County Sealer.

The land disconnection measure provides that tracts of land 20 acres or more in area lying at the edge but without the limits of cities and villages may be disconnected under certain conditions by petitioning the county or circuit court.

tioning the county or circuit court. Illinois fruit and vegetable producers will be given additional protection by the passage of the closed package measure providing that fruits and vegetables shipped into Illinois from other states must be properly packaged and labeled the same as is required of Illinois products.

Downstate elementary schools promise to fare a little better during the next biennium as a result of an increase in the common school fund from 10 1/2 million to 13 million dollars annually. The money will come from occupational and liquor taxes.

Motorists will secure a slight reduction in their license fees beginning next year. The $12 state license was cut to $10.50 and the $8 license to $6.50. The 45 mile an hour speed limit beyond city limits was repealed.

There will be no enforced consolidation of rural schools, but a state education committee of 10 will be appointed by the governor to continue the study of school needs with the idea of making recommendations to the legislature.

The total sum of all appropriations was approximately $390,000,000, said to be the largest appropriation ever made by a General Assembly in this state.

Beginning in 1936 poor people of 65 years or over may be given a pension not to exceed $1 per day when approved by the county old-age relief board. The board will consist of three persons appointed by the county judge and serving without pay. People who have $5,000 or more of property will not be eligible. A total of $5,000,000 was appropriated to match Federal funds in administering the measure.

Horse Show Will Be Included In Ogle County Fair

A horse show will be one of the features of the Ogle county fair and cash premiums will be offered, reports said today.

Horse shows in the past have awarded premiums or ribbons most generally and occasionally cups and trophies. Owners claim preference for cash.

Other features of the Ogle fair this fall will be a large flower show, a livestock exhibit and in the realm of entertainment, a balloon ascension, parachute jump and other aerial acrobatics. As the Ogle county fair is noteworthy for its races particularly good paces and trotting events are expected this year. The exact dates of the fair have not yet been decided but Labor Day will be included as one of the biggest days, the fair management states.

IMPORTS PROVE NOT ALARMING IF PRICE GOOD

Prove Heavier in 1935 Than in 1934, But Are Still Small

While imports of grain, feed, and butter during the 10 months ending April 30, 1935 have been heavier due to the 1934 drought than any similar period in recent years, in some cases they are small compared with imports in other years, reports the Illinois Agricultural Association. Moreover grain imports of which so much is being made by enemies of the crop adjustment program, says the IAA, are a drop in the bucket compared with the normal annual production of these grains in the United States.

During the recent 10-month period imports of feed wheat totaled 7,035,000 bushels, whereas in 1920 total imports of wheat were 57,000,000 bushels, the Association states. This compares with our normal annual production ranging of wheat from 600,000,000 to 800,000,000 bushels.

Ten months' importations of barley ending in April total 9,624,000 bushels, according to the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, which compares with imports of 1,309,000 bushels in 1931 and 2,772,000 in 1911. The end of prohibition and the use of larger quantities of malt barley in making beer, coupled with the shortage of feed stimulated imports of barley considerably above normal during the past year. Annual barley production since 1920 ranged from 118,929,000 in 1934 to 329,625,000 bushels in 1928.

Imports of corn in the 10 months ending with April 1935 were 11,270,000 bushels which compares with a previous high of 12,368,000 bushels in 1913 and 10,283,000 in 1919. The average annual production of corn from 1926 to 1930 was 2,513,507,000 bushels.

Imports of oats have been heavier than normal during the 10 months ending in April being 14,084,000 bushels which compares with a previous high of 22,333,000 bushels in 1913.

While imports of butter in the first five months of 1935 approximated 20,000,000 pounds this is only a small percentage of total creamery butter production in 1932 of 1,694,132,000 pounds. Imports of creamery butter in the year 1920 total 34,344,000 pounds. Since butter prices dropped, imports have practically ceased.

Farmers who have had surplus grain to sell, with the possible exception of rye producers, have not been complaining about the price. Most of the complaint has been coming from speculators who fear that imports will cut their speculative profits.

While organized farmers insist on adequate tariff protection they are not alarmed over comparatively small imports of grain during periods of short production so long as fair prices are maintained. Most farmers would like to see some industrial tariff revision, however, which would tend to bring industrial prices and production in line with agricultural prices and production. Farmers had to quit buying two years ago because industry refused to continue producing commodities needed by farmers at a price they could afford to pay.

FRANK PRIEBE'S WEEKLY LETTER to POULTRY RAISERS

The Saturday after the Fourth H. J. Flemming, who lives near Humboldt, Iowa, sold 160 spring chickens to a produce dealer I know and got a check for $112.42.

Anyone who raises chickens would be glad to sell them for that price, but the fact is very few people have birds like Mr. Flemming's ready for market this early. Those 160 chickens weighed 803 pounds—a little more than 5 pounds apiece! Think of it! Five-pound springs by the Fourth of July! And only four months old, too!

If Mr. Flemming can raise springs to 5 pounds in four months, there's no reason why more people can't do it. He got good chicks—and he got them early, and then he gave them good care and good feed.

Anyone who raises chickens can do that—if he will.

Raises Springs to 5 Pounds in 4 Months on Home-Mixed Feed

Often, when you hear of person who have heavy chickens ready for market this early, they have used some commercial feed.

That gives other people a chance to excuse the fact that their chickens haven't done so well. You've heard them complaining, "—but I can't afford to buy feed for my chicks."

However, that excuse can't be accepted in this case because Mr. Flemming mixed his own feed!

Naturally the fact that the chickens grew so rapidly shows that he mixed it carefully—so that it was a properly balanced ration. But so can any other farmer mix feed carefully—if he is willing to do so the trouble.

Caponize Late Cockerels
On the same day I heard of Mr. Flemming's selling these 5-pound primings I heard about some hatcheries that were still putting out chicks—in July, mind you.

Certainly, with roasting chickens already being sold and these that I've just been telling you about aren't the only ones I've heard of, nobody could expect a very satisfactory price for spring chicken that are only now being started.

Of course, I realize that the weather was very unfavorable for early chicks this spring. And no doubt many of these late chicks are being bought to replace those that were lost out of earlier hatches.

But they are late chicks. You can't get away from that.

I think you can still make some money on them, but there's only one way I see to do it—and that's to CAPONIZE the cockerels.

Sincerely yours,
Frank Priebe

VISIBLE GRAIN SUPPLY

New York, July 16—(AP)—The visible supply of American grain shows the following changes in bushels: wheat increased 616,000; corn decreased 416,000; oats increased 190,000; rye decreased 304,000; barley decreased 370,000.

The motorcycle cop drove up beside the car that was holdin up the line. "Can't yer go any faster?" he roared.

"Yes," was the calm reply, "but I don't want to leave the car."

He: "Does the moon affect the tide?"

She: "No, only the untied."

WELCOME RAIN ERODES SOIL IN ILLINOIS

Many Tons of Silt Washed Into The State's Rivers

Urbana, Ill., July 16—Welcome as they have been, record rains throughout Illinois this spring have cost farmers millions of dollars in soil erosion and left damage which will take years to repair, it is estimated by Dr. W. L. Burlison, head of the department of agronomy and chairman of the soil conservation committee, College of Agriculture, University of Illinois.

Fortunately, farmers and the general public have been so struck by the damage that there is now a more concerted effort than ever before to halt erosion and keep farm lands and valuable soil fertility at home, he said.

Streams and rivers filled with muddy water, fields stripped with newly formed gulleys, gullies that have widened and deepened and ditches that have been silted full or partly full have all served to bring home the unreckoned damage which erosion has done to unprotected fields, according to Dr. Burlison.

In May alone almost double the normal amount of rainfall was reported by 101 weather stations of the state, Dr. Burlison said. The average was 7.78 inches, whereas the normal amount is 4.16 inches. Flood damage has been reported in 25 of the 102 counties of the state. Erosion this spring was at its worst on three million acres of Illinois land that should never be farmed, Dr. Burlison said. Less severely hit were another three million acres that are subject to serious erosion and that are suitable only for orcharding, permanent pasture or timber. There is an additional area of more than 12,618,000 acres in the state where erosion lowered the productivity of the land unless it was protected, and little of it was, he said. Soil washing even added to its toll on 16,000,000 acres of relatively flat land in the state where erosion occurs on the longer slopes.

Erosion was all the worse during the heavy rains because of the after effects of the 1934 dry weather, Dr. Burlison pointed out. In many fields the earth was dry and powdery when the heavy rains came, and tons of valuable top soil went down rivers and streams to make them still muddier than they already were, he said.

With the top soil washed away, valuable fertility elements were lost and the raw subsoil was brought nearer the surface. Once erosion has advanced to the place where the subsoil is exposed, Nature can build it into tillable top soil only after thousands of years, Dr. Burlison said.

The fact that many fields also were stripped of vegetation as a result of the 1934 drought made erosion losses heavier this year, Dr. Burlison said.

Illinois Fair To Be Held in August

Illinois' great state fair will be held from Saturday, August 17 to Saturday, August 24, at Springfield, this summer and promises to be one of the greatest state fairs ever held in the state.

Approximately $130,000 will be divided among a number of exhibitors. Livestock entries will close August 1, except for light horses and poultry, which entries close August 10.

TWELVE CAMPS CCC WORKERS TO BE FORMED

Will Check Erosion and Terrace Hills on Work Relief

Twelve new CCC camps are being established in Illinois this month to fight soil erosion, F. A. Fisher, regional director of the soil conservation service reports.

The new additions will enlist more than 8000 young men in the state to build terraces and gully dams and plant trees as a means of checking land devastation by erosion.

Barracks for the new camps will be constructed by the army. Enrollees will be stationed in tents until the permanent quarters are completed. Relief families of Illinois and other midwestern states will supply the rolls, and each enrollee will receive $30 a month, five of which will be paid him and the other $25.00 to go to his parents. All equipment and clothes will be furnished by the army.

The locations of the new camps and superintendents of each are: Jo Daviess County, Carl A. Lindstrom; Ogle County, Howard D. Sargent; DuPage County, Hugh A. Binyon; Jackson County, Morgan County, B. C. Taylor; Elwood, Peoria County, H. B. Shaw; Alamo, Mercer County, William Sigler; Galesburg, Knox County, Walter Marriott; Marshall, Henry County, Thomas M. Sweeney; Mount Carroll, Carroll County, Herbert Stoll; Pekin, Tazewell County, Henry Dieternann; Carlinville, Macoupin County, Byron L. Beard; Lawrenceville, Lawrence County, Victor M. Tracey. Present plans of the Services are to have all of these camps in operation by August 1.

Four districts have been outlined and district technicians have been appointed to aid in supervision of the work. The counties in each of these subdivisions, as announced by C. E. Swain, State Administrator of erosion CCC camps, are: Division 1—Carroll, Jo Daviess, Ogle, Winnebago, Mercer, Henry and Marshall-Putnam.

Division 2—Knox, Peoria, Woodford, Tazewell, McDonough, Mason, Schuyler, Adams, Pike and Morgan.

Division 3—Greene, Jersey, Macoupin, Lawrence, Clark, Mason and McLean.

Division 4—Edwardsville, White, Gallatin, Pope, Pulaski, Union, Franklin, Jackson, Randolph and Monroe.

SOIL WASHAGE CHECK IN OGLE COUNTY PROBEL

Farmers of Ogle county are now being offered an opportunity to check the washing of soils by erosion, which has been especially evident this season. The heavy run off of water after frequent rains this spring, carrying many tons of fertile soil down the rivers is an emphatic demonstration of what is happening every year in a more moderate way and which according to students of the problem will, if not checked, destroy much of the present fertility of these soils within a few years.

This waste of fertile soil may be largely checked by cooperation of farmers in a project offered by the Federal Soil Conservation Service and the Ogle County Farm Bureau. The program that is planned is a broad one and will include a variety of methods to cause more of the rain fall to be absorbed into the soil instead of running off. The use of grass strips in the draws, and sowing more land to pasture, meadow and small grain crops rather than cultivated crops, also the use of limestone and legumes for restoring permanent fertility and improved physical condition of the soil will be practiced.

Where it is necessary to divert the water to different channels, systems of terraces and dams will be used.

A county committee of farmers, including Amzi Johnston, Byron, Fred Borneman, Leaf River; Joe Brooks, Forreston; J. W. Hemmingsway, Oregon, and others, is working out a plan which will provide for the use of terracing machinery where it is needed and for the services of the government soil erosion camp which will be established in this locality to furnish labor without cost to the farmers who wish to improve their farms in accordance with this program.

The acceptance of this service is purely voluntary with the farm owners. Trained men in charge of the work will consult with any one who is interested as to the particular soil or crop problem he has and help him in working out a practical solution which he may adopt if he chooses.

Meetings will be held in the near future to give further particulars and individual contacts will be made by the men of the Conservation Service to acquaint farmers with the methods to be used. The methods will not be particularly different from what any farmer would use if he had time and money available to do the work. The chief advantage of this plan is that the camp will furnish labor free of charge thus making it possible for a farmer to make needed soil improvements at a very low cost.

BAKED SOIL'S HINDRANCE TO CULTIVATION

Lee Farmers Report
Corn is Growing
More Rapidly

Soil, baked by intense heat, and hardened by the heavy rains early in the month, formed the basis for most of the complaints of Lee county farmers this week in the Telegraph's special survey of crop conditions.

At the Eldena Lee county poor farm, crops, particularly the corn, have been hampered by baked soil, making cultivation particularly difficult, but the crop in general is progressing very well since the rains ceased. No peas are raised for marketing at the poor farm, but the small grains and hay crop are reassuring it was reported this week. Standing water in the fields of that section has mostly disappeared, by evaporation and drainage.

Frank Wilson Reports.

From the Frank Wilson farm near Polo come reports of light rains this week. The sunshiny period extending back ten days has more brought along the Wilson corn crop rapidly from its previously subnormal height. The oats are considered very good and a recent coming of the fields for chinch bugs indicated that the pest had been almost completely eradicated by natural conditions, a fungus disease induced by long, protracted spring rains. No soy beans are raised on the Wilson farm and no peas are raised or marketed by them.

Some Corn Yellowed.

In Amboy township the Frank Fassler farm reports the corn generally in good condition but patches of it yellowed as a result of floods and standing water which only recently drained away from the heavy rains of the first four days of July. The soil is quite badly baked on the Fassler farm making cultivation difficult. So much attention has been devoted to the cultivation of corn the Fasslers have not yet had time to harvest their alfalfa crop which is very good. Oats standing on this farm are excellent, and the soy beans are doing well. Few chinch bugs remain. There has been no recent rainfall.

The Fasslers milk twenty-five or thirty cows and market their milk at the Coss dairy in Dixon.

CUBS OPERATE BETTER SINCE BIG SHAKEUP

Chicagoans Now Hot On Giants Trail—Eight Wins

Chicago, July 16.—(AP)—That big Wrigley bankroll, which used to be dangled in front of club owners as bait for their high priced ball players, is doing all right with a tight rubber band around it.

And so are the Chicago Cubs, once the milk and honey boys of baseball, who are strictly on their own these days with orders to hustle and make good or prepare themselves for the axe that already has cut 15 members of last year's team from the squad.

For a club that has been shaken completely from the front of the pack down to the batboy within less than a year, the Cubs have been doing remarkably well this year. Riding on a tide of eight straight victories, Charlie Grimm's youngsters today were trailing the league leading New York Giants by seven games with hopes of winning the pennant yet.

Klein Near-Failure

The failure of Chuck Klein to produce undoubtedly caused Owner Philip K. Wrigley to jerk back his big bank roll and announce that henceforth the Cubs would build up from the bottom with young players. Klein was purchased for approximately $100,000 from the Phillies and paid off with a .301 batting average, playing in 115 games. When that happened and Owner Wrigley discovered—somewhat to his surprise—that the Cubs were losing instead of making money, he altered his policy and opened a campaign to sell, trade or release most parts of the old Cub machine.

First To Leave

William Murray Walker, long a prominent shareholder and who was elevated to the club presidency following the death of William L. Veeck, was one of the first to leave, resigning his post in October. Since then, players have left so quickly by devious routes that of last year's regulars only pitchers Bill Lee, Lon Warneke, and Charlie Root, catcher Gabby Hartnett, second baseman Billy Herman, shortstop Bill Jurges and Klein remain. Elwood English, Stanley Hack, Augie Galan, Tut Stainback and young Phil Cavarretta, now regarded as one of the most promising first basemen, also stayed on with the team but their activity, generally, came in utility roles last season. Among the former greats who left since the close of last year's campaign are Kiki Cuyler, Guy Bush, Pat Malone, Riggs Stephenson, Babe Herman, Jim Weaver, and Bud Tinning. Grimm also retired as an active player in favor of Cavarretta.

Grimm, who used to fume and fuss because many of his players failed to hustle enough last year, still has his troubles and the crowds at Wrigley Field this season have been comparatively small but he believes he has a real championship team in the making, with not a fancy price tag among the lot except for Klein.

GEHRIG CALLED STAR OF MONTH

Larrupin' Lou Was Mentioned Five Times, Poll

New York, July 16.—(AP)—In accord with the return of his power at the plate, Lou Gehrig, veteran Yankee first baseman, was the "star of the month" during the third 30-day period of the major league baseball campaign ending yesterday.

One hundred twenty players, 62 in the National league and 58 in the American circuit, gained recognition at least once in the Associated Press' "Yesterday's Stars" but Larrupin' Lou was mentioned five times to earn top honors.

In the previous lists, Gehrig had failed to get even honorable mention.

Mel Ott, the Giants' slugging outfielder who was the star of the first month, tied for runner-up honors with his hard hitting teammate, Hank Leiber; Ted Lyons and Zeke Bonura of the White Sox, young Billy Myers of the Reds, Jimmie Fox of the Athletics, and Wally Berger of the Braves.

Each was mentioned four times in the daily compilation.

The last sultan of Turkey had an average daily income of $18,000.

Giving Champ a Helping Leg

Every sport spectator recalls the times when he involuntarily has strained every muscle to help push a winner over the line. That's the way these two students felt as they lifted their legs in unison to give Milt Orday just a little more power as he went over the bar at 12 feet 1 1/2 inches. Milt, a Milwaukee athlete, is Wisconsin high school pole vault champion.

Errors Assisted Dixon Indies in Win Over Joliet

The box score of the Dixon-Joliet baseball game which was unavailable in time for publication Monday morning was announced this morning.

The statistics show that although Dixon was out hit 11 to 9, the 6 to 5 victory of the locals was attributed to a ninth inning rally in which Hi Emmert slammed Kuhn and McDonald home after Ferris, playing third sack for Joliet, bobbled a line drive toward his position.

STATE HOSPITAL TEAMS DEFEATED IN DOUBLE TILT

Dodgers Win Over the Employees 9-4; Beat Patients, 13-4.

Dixon State Hospital employees fell before the Dixon Dodgers nine over the weekend at the Hospital diamond. The Dodgers were victorious 9 to 4. The Dodgers also got nine hits and the employees rapped four blows off Flanagan, Dodger flinger.

In the first inning the Dodgers reached base on an error. Fane racing to second base. Scriven's strikeout left him stranded. The score was tied in the second inning when both teams made a run. In the fourth inning, the Dodgers pushed home two runs when Kesselring's delivery went wild. The Hospital crew kept after their rivals nevertheless, rallying to gain a tie by a three run barrage in the fourth, as Phelps walked and was sent around to third on a single by Allen. Hospital first sacker. The bases were filled when Kesselring was walked for the third straight time. Phelps and Allen scored on outs by Doty and Wilamoski and Kesselring came home on a passed ball by Johnny Scriven.

The Dodgers clinched their victory in the ninth. Miller in center field, fell while chasing a long hard hit fly ball, and Phelps threw the ball past Mansfield, allowing a double steal. There were no home runs, the longest hit being a double by C. Scriven.

The Dodgers beat the patients in a preliminary game 13 to 4.

GRID INCOME TO PAY BOARD TEAM MEMBERS

San Jose Teachers College Revolts From League

San Jose, Calif., July 16.—(AP)—Football income at San Jose State Teachers College will be used hereafter to provide room and board for members of the football squad during the grid season.

The announcement was made by President T. W. Mac Quarrie, shortly after the school withdrew yesterday from the Far Western conference.

"It is unfair," the president said "to expect a boy to earn a living, play football and keep up his studies. Too many deserving youngsters have tried to do this only to find themselves dropped from school or suspended from athletic participation."

He added that "we are tired of having the Far Western conference tell us how to handle athletes in the classroom, and are determined to set our own rules, which will be more stringent than the present standards."

Star Plans Broken Bat Fence

Stamps and coins and a thousand and one other things attract collectors, but Jimmy Collins, Cardinals' slugging first sacker, has the field to himself in broken bats. Jim plans to build a fence around his Rochester, N. Y., back yard with them and has 120 splintered bludgeons as a starter. Here his children—Betty, 10; Warren, 5; and James, Jr.—frolic with the collection, which grows rapidly as big leaguers save their shattered cudgels for Jim.

SCHMELING TO FIGHT RIVAL YET UNKNOWN

Teuton Signed Up for Baer and Louis September

New York, July 16.—(AP)—It seems that Max Schmeling is going to fight somebody in September, but his opponent's identity has been obscured in a cross fire of contradictory statements.

The most that can be said at present is that the Teuton slugger will fight either Joe Louis, the Brown Bomber of Detroit, or Max Baer, the biffing bridegroom from Livermore, Calif.

James J. Johnston of Madison Square Garden announced last night he had closed negotiations for a 15-round match between Schmeling and Baer on or about Sept. 26 at the Garden Bowl on Long Island.

Mike Jacobs of the 20th Century Club previously had announced that Schmeling had been matched to fight Louis at the Polo Grounds Sept. 18.

Johnston said he had concluded his arrangements yesterday over the trans-Atlantic telephone with Joe Jacobs, Schmeling's American manager, who is in Berlin.

"As a matter of fact," said Johnston, "we already had Schmeling under contract. We signed Baer, through his manager, Ancil Hoffman, last Friday. The news incensed Mike Jacobs, who immediately called his namesake in Berlin.

Turning from the telephone he denied that Johnston's statement was based on actual developments.

"So Johnston said he called Joe Jacobs at Berlin, did he?" he fumed. "Well, I just this minute finished talking to Jacobs myself, and he said he never held a trans-Atlantic conversation with Johnston."

"Moreover," Jacobs told me he was sending a cable immediately to verify the fact that Schmeling had signed to meet Louis."

Joe Jacobs, reached in Berlin, said however, that inasmuch as Schmeling had not yet returned to Berlin from a hunting trip, he had signed nothing.

FLEET REVIEW BY KING GEORGE DREW THOUSANDS

Greatest Array of Warships Since Days of World Conflict

Portsmouth, England, July 16.—(AP)—The greatest array of British fighting craft since the 1914 review— from which the ships steamed off to their World War stations—lined the Spithead waters today for the silver jubilee review before King George.

With prospects of a world naval race and the tense Italo-Ethiopian situation in the background, a total of 237 ships—more than one-third of them representing "His Majesty's merchant navy"—formed for the four hour review.

King George boarded the white, royal yacht, the Victoria and Albert, with the Prince of Wales, the Duke of York and the Duke of Kent, to inspect the 11 lines of steel-gray warships. His other son, the Duke of Gloucester, was on the cruiser Australia.

Thousands Throng Shore
Thousands of spectators thronged the shore and piers for the spectacle.

Twenty-one years ago, the King viewed 59 capital ships and 55 cruisers on the same scene. In his post-war review of 1924, there were 11 capital ships and nine cruisers.

Today there were nine capital ships and 17 cruisers. There were destroyers and submarines in greater numbers and two aircraft carriers—new, since such ships were unknown in World War days.

The British fleet, a major part of which entered into the ceremony, displayed a strength which, although still powerful, was considerably weaker than in 1914.

Great Britain's navy, like that of the United States, has been cut radically in size and regulated by the Washington treaty, which Japan has denounced effective at the end of 1936.

When the firing ceased in the Washington war over President Roosevelt's dismissal of Ewing Y. Mitchell as assistant secretary of commerce, a South Carolina engineer and American Legion leader emerged to pre-empt office. Here is the new secretary, John Monroe Johnson, snapped at his desk just after he had been sworn in as Mitchell's successor.

It's Morgan, in Striking Study

A camera study that brings out with striking faithfulness every facial feature of America's greatest financier is this latest exclusive picture of J. P. Morgan taken as he sailed unrecognized by the public for Europe on the Aquitania. The attitude is typically Morganesque, the man of millions standing with mouth tightly closed, jaw firmly set, and keen eyes gazing directly ahead with his favorite pipe gripped in the left hand giving the last characteristic touch.

GREAT GOLF By Art Krenz

After scoring a deuce on the eight hole during the third round of the National Open championship at Worcester, Mass., in 1925, Willie MacFarlane needed a four for an outgoing score of 31. On this hole he hooked his tee shot behind a huge maple tree.

He had two ways of playing the shot, under or over. To play under would catch a trap. To play over he would have to get the ball up quickly and carry 170 yards.

Choosing the latter method, he gave the ball a good sock with a masher and landed it just short of the green. He chipped up and got his four. This shot enabled him later to tie Jones at 291, and MacFarlane won the playoff.

In iron play, the aim is for accuracy rather than distance. The stance used should bring the feet closer together than for a full backswing. The iron shot is more of a punch, a stiff arm stroke with a shorter backswing and less pivoting.

For a high shot such as MacFarlane made, the ball is played a few inches more toward the left foot than opposite a point half-way between the feet. If the shot is to be a low one, the ball is moved farther toward the right foot.

DUTCH AIRLINER CRASHED SUNDAY WITH 5 KILLED

Third Disaster in Six Months Arouses Amsterdam Police

Amsterdam, July 16.—(AP)—Authorities ordered a rigid investigation today into the series of disasters to the Netherlands' air liners after Sunday's tragedy in which six persons were killed at the Schiphol aerodrome.

The giant American-made Fokker plane which crashed into a dyke and burst into flames yesterday soon after taking off for Hamburg was the third "flying hotel" of the Netherlands wrecked in little more than six months.

The charred wreckage of the great four-motored ship was sealed. Not even officials of the air line were permitted to approach.

A post mortem disclosed that the six victims—including two English passengers whose curiosity to inspect the operating mechanism led to their being trapped in the pilot's compartment—died before the flames reached them.

Thirteen other passengers and one member of the crew escaped through a small rear door, which burst open in the crash.

CROP INSURANCE IS FAR AHEAD OF 1934 IS REPORT

Tremendous increases in the volume of mutual insurance protection on farm property against fire and wind damage in the state-wide farmer-owned company is shown in figures for the first five months of this year made public by the Illinois Agricultural Association. Hail insurance for growing crops in the Farmers Mutual is also ahead of last year by a wide margin, in fact nearly 300 per cent.

Fire and wind insurance written on Illinois farm buildings from Jan. 1, thru May 31, 1935 totals $8,673,272 and $7,941,388 respectively and practically equals last year's total for a month longer period. From Jan. 1 up to and including June 30, 1934, fire insurance written by the company totaled $8,965,935 and wind $8,250,000. With June yet to be included, 1935 figures promise to be substantially greater than those of last year.

Prospects for a good crop and good prices have no doubt contributed to the remarkable increase in hail insurance on growing crops written this year. From March 1, to June 30, 1934 growing crop hail insurance written totaled -2,143,914. But 1934 figures for the same period run up to a total of $7,092,110 with July stepping along at an unprecedented rate. Expectations are for around $9,000,000 growing crop hail insurance for 1935. The crops covered are largely corn, soybeans, wheat, oats and barley.

The growth of mutual insurance on a co-operative basis for farmers has progressed farther in the Middle Atlantic and North Central States. Approximately 1900 farmers' mutuals of various sizes in the U. S. insure 55 per cent of all the farm buildings against fire and wind. In Illinois the 240 mutuals write about the same percentage as the national total. Farmers Mutual, operated by the Illinois Agricultural Association is the largest of the mutual fire, wind and hail companies in Illinois. The company also does a big re-insuring business for local mutuals.

GOSPEL TENT NEWS

An interested audience from Dixon and surrounding towns, listened to Rev. Russell McNamara of Chicago, as he preached in the Gospel Tent on First street Sunday.

In the evening a large crowd assembled to hear him tell his life story, of how God so wonderfully saved him from his life of sin.

In spite of all he has had to endure of persecution by being pointed out as "that murderer etc.," which is a penalty that sin exacts, he has the assurance in his heart that God has forgiven him, which no one can take from him, and he has been able to lead away to the Lord.

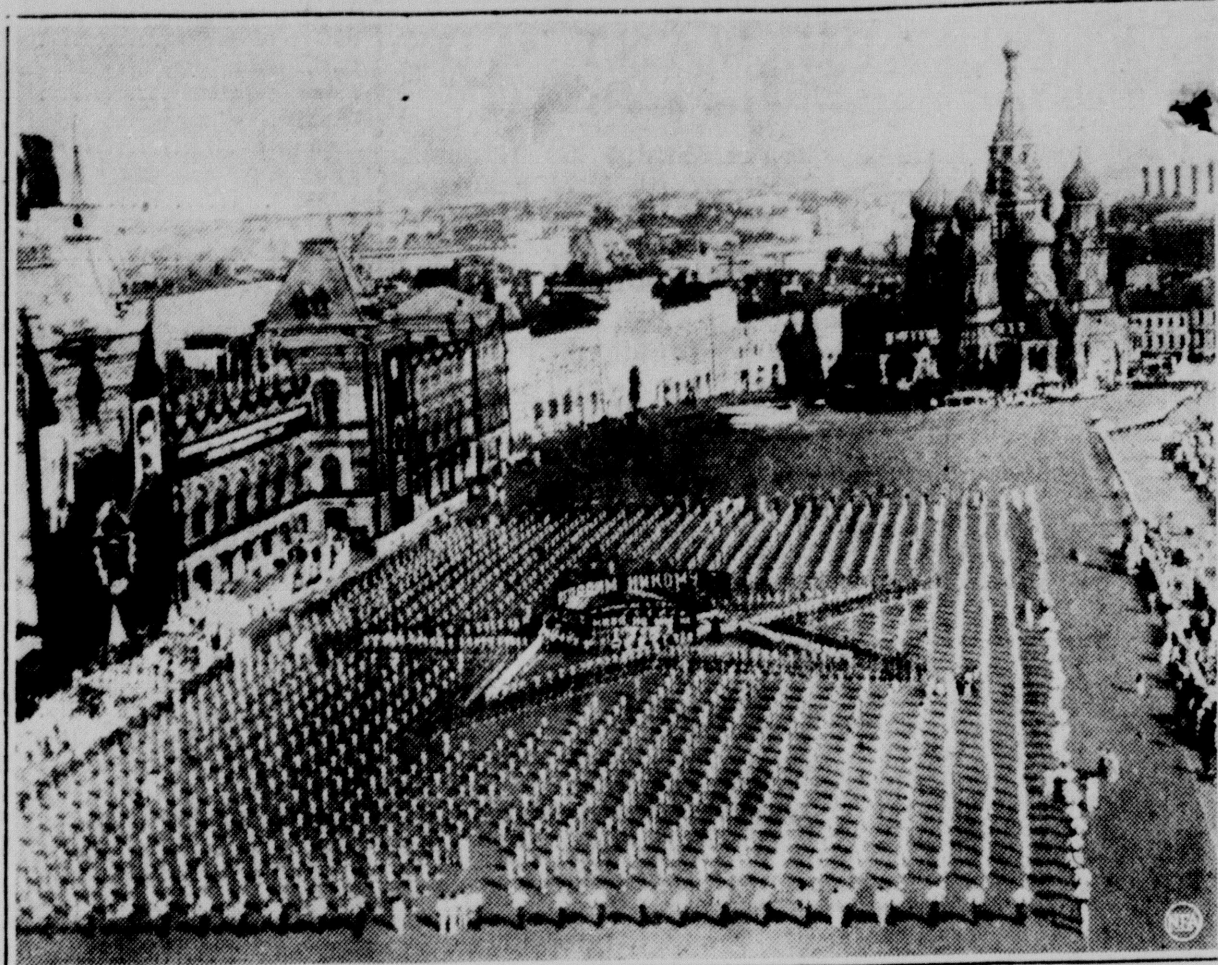

Nine persons accepted the Lord, in the services of the day.

There was no service last night, but beginning tonight, Rev. P. B. Chenault, pastor of the Baptist church of LaSalle will be the speaker for two weeks.
